Dear Dr. Munz.—

Re. your no. 4930 from Chuchawalla Valley. This must be an introduced umbellifer and I should be interested in knowing if it occurs near a settlement. I find no record of any such Umbellifer for North America and in account of its general character I take it to be Mediterranean — perhaps some one of the many Torilis allies. The specimen has no fruit, and as you know members of this family are difficult to handle in the absence of ripe carpels. Nevertheless we have spent several weeks on it — hoping to win back of it in some way.

If you should chance to have any means of securing ripe fruits this season I hope you will not neglect to do so.

Yours very truly

W.L. Jepson.
